INTEGRATION OF FAITH AND LEARNING

C.S. Lewis, in his landmark essay, "Learning in War Time," noted: "Good philosophy must exist, if for no other reason, because bad philosophy needs to be answered."

Faith informs knowledge as premises inform conclusions. All thought is founded on sets of presuppositions that will lead, inevitably to ends. The psalmist says, "As a man thinks in his heart, so is he." The soundness of our conclusions will be determined by the veracity of our presuppositions.

Therefore, it is important that Christian scholars not think that that they must abandon presuppositions in order to achieve some chimerical objectivity and advance in the academy. Worse, it is a lie. The scholar will not abandon presuppositions in any case; instead, one set will merely be substituted for another. G.K. Chesterton, in All is Grist, explained, "The whole point of education is that it should give a man abstract and eternal standards by which he can judge material and fugitive conditions." By integrating faith and learning we can bring the eternal into the temporal, allowing us to "test the spirits" and to "hold fast to what is true."

RESPONSIBILITIES OF STUDENTS

• Attendance policy: Southeastern's attendance as per the student handbook is adhered to in this course: For traditional fall and spring semesters, a student may miss a class without penalty equal to the number of times a class meets per week as follows:

If the class meets once a week a student may miss one class.

If the class meets two times a week a student may miss two classes.

If the class meets three times a week a student may miss three classes.

If a student's absences exceed the number of times a class meets per week, a professor may:

Subject the student to a penalty of not more than one letter grade based on attendance alone.

Recommend to the Provost that a student with excessive absences be withdrawn from the course.

Be on time to class! Be in the class and sitting down by the time the class starts. Two tardies equal one absence. If you are going to be more than five minutes late to class, please don't come to class, as you may not be counted present. Also, if you are constantly not engaging in class (typing on Twitter while we are supposed to be in small groups, or checking Facebook during a lecture) you can also be counted as absent and your class participation grade will be affected (20% of final grade).

- Professional courtesy: Should a concern/problem develop with the course, its contents, or the course instructor, the student is expected to consult the faculty member as soon as possible.
- Exams. You are required to be present on the day of exams. Only an excused absence such as a pre-approved school function will suffice for being able to make up an exam.
- Final Grade: In order to receive a final grade for the course the student will need to rectify any 'holds' placed on his/her academic record prior to the end of the semester. Contact the records office for further information on removing 'holds.'
- Appointments: For appointments, sign up at least a day ahead for a 15-minute slot on the paper on the professor's office door.

- Class Participation: Active participation during class is imperative, as we will be "learning while doing." A portion of your course grade is based on class participation. You are expected to take part in discussions, ask questions, participate in class activities and conduct yourself in a professional manner.
- Additional Assistance: The following academic services are offered by the University: Tutoring (Academic Center for Enrichment (ACE), Modular #5)

The ACE center provides academic support (through individual tutoring, group study sessions, and academic improvement workshops) for all students, including those who struggle with learning strategies and/or content knowledge.

Retention (Addison Building, Office #A205)

The retention office exists to empower and equip students to overcome academic, financial, and/or social challenges that may put them at risk of withdrawing.

- Late Assignment Policy: All assignments are due within the first 10 minutes of class on the specified due date. The same applies if an assignment is to be turned-in electronically by a specific time. All assignments turned in after the first 10 minutes and by the end of class automatically lose 20%. An additional 20% is deducted per day, including weekends, following the due date. Exceptions will be made for extreme circumstances only; please contact instructor if you have any questions.
- Course Policies/Technical Difficulties:

In the event of an unexpected server outage or unusual technical difficulty that prevents students from completing a time-sensitive activity or assessment within MyFIRE, students should immediately report the situation to their instructor and the 24x7 MyFIRE Support Center @ 1-800-985-9781. A link to the 24/7 Support Center is also provided within each course in MyFIRE.

ASSESSMENT

DESIGN PROCESS	80%
DEADLINE	5%
PROFESSIONALISM & INNOVATIVENESS 5%)
ATTENDANCE & PARTICIPATION 5%)
Professor/Client/Director 'AHA'	5%
	100%

Judging the success of layout and design in any medium can be a subjective activity, so therefore objective criteria will be explained. The professor will evaluate all creative work on the basis of impact, concept, originality, organization, appearance, persuasiveness, content appropriate to the assignment (and to the marketplace)—the same standards applied in a professional setting.

A - work will be borderline professional, worthy (perhaps with further development) of a place in your portfolio. It will be "on strategy"--a workable solution with a clear, distinctive, memorable and persuasive message with careful attention to detail.

- B work will have professional potential and, with more good work and effort, might qualify as a portfolio sample.
- C work is average. It may have qualities that commend it, but it demands revision because it wouldn't "fly" in the real world.
- D work probably has one or more of these weaknesses
- —Idea/concept weak or missing, off target or off strategy.
- —Idea or concept would be rejected in a professional setting.
- —Copy and visual don't work together.
- F student did not follow instructions or did not turn in assignment.

Final Exam: Students must exhibit knowledge of lecture and text materials via comprehensive written final exam. Grading scale: The course will follow the University's official grading scale (see below).

EXPECTATIONS OF STUDENTS:

- Spend a minimum of two hours outside of class studying for each hour of classroom time.
- Exhibit classroom behavior that is respectful to faculty and fellow students.
- Arrive at class on time, actively participate in class, and not leave class early.
- Keep up with assigned readings and complete assignments on time.
- Contribute fully to team assignments.
- Respect the university's staff and be responsible stewards of its facilities.
- Cultivate a servant leader attitude.

STUDENT DISABILITY STATEMENT

Southeastern University is committed to the provision of reasonable accommodations for all students with learning and/or physical disabilities, as defined in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and with the American with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990. This legislation guarantees educational rights for the physically and learning disabled.

Students with medical diagnoses which qualify them for accommodations must contact ADA Services at 863-667-5283 or email ADAservices@seu.edu. Once medical documentation is provided and a confidential consultation is completed, the student will then be responsible to provide the Director of Academic & Auxiliary Services with a list of his or her current professors and their emails.

Contact with the Office of Academic & Auxiliary Services is mandatory for each new semester.

For more information, visit the SEU Students with Disabilities page on our website.

SEU Title IX Syllabi Statement

Southeastern University is committed to creating an environment for every student to thrive academically spiritually and socially. An aspect of creating this culture is providing avenues for students to discuss and report any activity that may compromise this commitment.

Under a federal law known as Title IX, "no person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance" (Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972).

While students should feel comfortable approaching faculty with issues they may be struggling with or concerns they may be having, students should know that all faculty and staff are required to report certain information about Sexual Misconduct and certain crimes to University administration, in order to help keep the University community safe, and to connect students to all of the resources and reporting options that are available.

For example, if you inform faculty or staff (in private or during class discussions) of an incident of Sexual Misconduct, that individual will keep the information as private as possible, but is required to bring it to the attention of the institution's Title IX Office. If a student would like to talk to the Title IX office directly, they can do so by e-mail at smpowell@seu.edu, by phone at 863-667-5236, or in person at Pansler U225. For more information about Title IX reporting options at Southeastern, please go to: http://www.seu.edu/titleix.

If you are struggling with an issue that is traumatic, unusually stressful, or results in disruptive behavior, faculty and staff will likely inform the Care Team. If students would like to reach out directly to the Care Team for assistance, they can do so at the Campus Counseling Center

(http://myseu.seu.edu/services/counseling-health-wellness-services/seu-care-team/) located in Health Services in Smith Hall, by phone at 863-667-5205, or by e-mail at care@seu.edu.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION STATEMENT

Southeastern University requires all faculty, staff and students to use their Southeastern email address for official university communication. Students are required to check Southeastern email daily, as they will be held accountable for all communications sent through this medium.

COURSE EVALUATIONS STATEMENT

To help us to assess the effectiveness of our courses and instructors, all registered students must complete a course evaluation at the end of the semester. You must complete a course evaluation form for this course before your grade can be posted.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE INSTRUCTOR

- Come to class on time and be prepared
- Clearly state expectations
- Give advance notice of due dates
- Explain the evaluation scale
- Teach the content skills needed to complete the assigned tasks
- Encourage questions and offer help to students when needed
- Enforce discipline so that students work in a productive atmosphere
- Return assignments in a timely manner
- Evaluate student work consistently and fairly
- Provide constructive feedback to students
- Treat all students professionally without showing favoritism
- Keep a positive attitude
- Be willing to reevaluate teaching materials/methods
- Be available during office hours or by appointment
- Provide contact information
- Infuse a Christian worldview into the course content

COURSE WITHDRAWAL DATE

Deadline for traditional students to withdraw from a course is November 8th, 2016. A Course Withdrawal form (available in the Office of the Registrar or on the University website under Academics/Registrar/Forms) must be submitted no later than 11:59 PM on November 8th, 2016.

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY

Integrity is based on the simple standard, "What would Jesus do?" Plagiarism, cheating and other forms of dishonesty will be dealt with in accordance with academic policy.

FINAL EXAM POLICY STATEMENT

Every professor is obligated to administer a final exam or hold an appropriate class during the regularly scheduled exam period. Every student is obligated to take the final exam or attend that appropriate class during the regularly scheduled exam period. Please plan accordingly and carefully for final exams. You must not plan vacations, ministry appointments, weddings, airline flights, or any other similar activity or engagement that will conflict with the final exam schedule. Also, do not schedule any of these activities so close to your final exam that the commute to the activity conflicts with the final exam schedule.

Final exams will be administered in the room where the class normally meets. Students with more than 3 exams scheduled on one day can petition the instructor and department chair/college dean to take one of the exams another day. Please plan accordingly for final exams. You must not plan vacations, ministry appointments, weddings, purchase airline tickets, or any other similar activity or engagement that will conflict with the final exam schedule.
