Congratulations on the completion of your honors thesis/capstone project. The Southeastern University Digital Commons Committee would like to extend the honor of consideration for inclusion in our FireScholars Selected Honors Theses section. This collection will be published online and made available directly from search engines such as Google and on our website at <http://firescholars.seu.edu/honors>.

FireScholars is Southeastern's web-based, open access compliant institutional repository for digital content produced by Southeastern faculty, students, and staff. It is a permanent and open archive. All materials are searchable via Google Scholar and other search engines.

This form should be submitted to the School of Honors office as a page separate from the official thesis/capstone.

I agree to make my thesis/capstone available to the Southeastern University community and to the larger scholarly community upon its deposit in our permanent digital archive, FireScholars, or its successor technology, either immediately or upon completion of this specific event, date, and time:

I decline to have my thesis/capstone considered for inclusion in FireScholars at this time. I reserve the right to submit for inclusion at a later date, if desired.

By signing this form, I acknowledge that all work contained in this paper is original work by me or includes appropriate citations and/or permissions when citing or including excerpts of work(s) by others.

**If applicable, I have included an approval letter from the IRB relative to a study that involves human subjects.

I acknowledge that I understand the terms of this agreement and that I freely consent to the use of this work in FireScholars, if selected.
